Assemblin Caverion Group has launched a new Group-wide Leadership Program, bringing together participants from across our divisions and business areas.

The program is part of our continued investment in our people and in developing strong leadership across the Group. It focuses on several important dimensions of leadership and business development, from personal leadership and strategic and commercial thinking to customer understanding, innovation and digitalisation.

An equally important part of the program is the opportunity to learn from each other. By bringing together colleagues from different parts of the Group, the program encourages the exchange of experiences and perspectives while building stronger connections across businesses and borders.

The first module took place in Sweden in October, marking the beginning of a three-module learning journey, which will be completed in autumn 2027.

“We want our people to have the opportunity to keep growing, both as leaders and as individuals. By investing in their development, we are not only strengthening our leadership capabilities, but also creating an environment where people can learn from each other, broaden their perspectives and grow together”, says Jacob Götzsche, Group CEO.

The next step is to turn learning into action, guided by our shared values: We lead. We deliver. We care.
